To this day it has survived in fragments and contains approximately 3200 bibliographic records. The bibliography was printed only in 1990th. It covers the period from 1448 to 1918. Includes titles in 19 languages. The precision of descriptions indicate that not every item was described de visu. The bibliography includes bibliographical records of books (2966), periodicals (413), calendars (44), articles in journal and newspapers (1573), graphics (32), maps (29), sheets music (20), manuscripts (22) etc.
